NATURE, WILD AND FREE

Nature, be as the wind.
Free and with not a care to hold thee.
For man is on the hunt for control of thee.

He has dammed your rivers, moved your mountains,
Destroyed your forests and your land,
Mis-used your water, killed your people
In the name of civilization.

Called them killers, wild and untamed.
When he, the man, is the killer . . . the wild one . . .
The untamed one.
Now he seeks to save what is left
Of your Domain.
He seeks to control your sky, your storm, your rain.

Be Wild and Free, Nature, for man shall never learn
The secret of your power.
Yours is the power of the rain, the storm, the wind.
Yours is the power of the hottest day and the coldest night.
Yours is the power of the blizzard and the hurricane.
Yours the power that rules all man;
Power that rules all earth.

I say to thee:
Man shall never control you.
Only the angels above
Can question Thee . . .
Be as the Wind nature,
Be Wild and Free.

ADMINISTRATION

HARRY LEWIS, Ph.D.
Principal

The quiet dignity and patience of Dr. Lewis is indicative of his dedication to and interest in all phases of our school life. His willingness to advise and counsel students has won him the admiration and confidence of the entire student body. The seniors, especially, appreciate his understanding and wisdom.

An extraordinary mathematician, Dr. Lewis has occasionally displayed his skill as a teacher by conducting a few of our geometry classes.

Because of his pride in the music and art departments, he has endeavored to make the people of Newark cognizant of our accomplishments at Arts. He firmly believes in the ability of the students and is especially proud when an honor is bestowed upon any one of us. Truly a remarkable individual, we are honored to have him as our principal.

Mr. Restaino entertains one main objective: to continue to maintain the reputation of Arts High as an outstanding school known for its high academic standards and its warm, congenial atmosphere. He conducts all his tasks with an adroit and capable hand, giving special attention to each student and his schedule so that everyone has as rich a learning experience as possible, suited to his abilities and interests. He has our admiration, our sincere appreciation, and a lasting place in our memories.

Moonbeams:

Imaginary rays of opaque light that descend
And rest upon my dreams,
Giving them lustre
And strength;
Molding them into a brilliant
Ball that whirls and spins
Into Infinity
And out again;
Replacing doubt
With Silver faith and hope;
Adding specks of blinding light
Where sullen Darkness reigned;
Striking Earth and Constellations in their Haste to reach this human goal.

A shattering of stars and moonbeams—
To make true my dreams of the Future.

PRINCE STREET/Thomas Norulak

They're tearing down all the houses on Prince Street in that part of Newark where it wasn't any good for anyone's business unless he was a junk dealer or was just trying to make an honest buck off the people that he told his friends he didn't have anything against but I never hung around on Prince Street all I can remember of that was what my grandfather tells us about the good old days when a dollar bought more than it does now and you may ask how I know all this well you would too if you took the same bus as I do every morning along with the businessmen who wear striped ties/button-down white shirts/comb their hair to the left side parted on the right and the hat oh yes we musn't forget the hat most of them are bald come to think of it and they're tearing down the Rutledge Hotel on High Street which is the street that all the rich people used to live on but now they're all in Maplewood, or Millburn or some other suburban place where their children can grow up in a decent environment.

/Mommy, is this our floor?
/Not yet, only twelve more flights.

/Daddy, what does that sign say?
/Why, it says "Here once stood the mansion of Gottfried Krueger!"

Yeah—Here once stood the mansion of so and so but all I can say is I'll be damned if I have to live in one of those fourteen story apartments.

B^ASEB^ALL TEAM

Last season the Baseball Team experienced a rather unprecedented losing streak. This can be attributed in part to the fact that a majority of the players were unexperienced sophomores at the time. Coach Lang, however, looking on the bright side, saw much natural talent in these boys' performances. This ability will be developed and for the next two years they will form the hard core of the group.

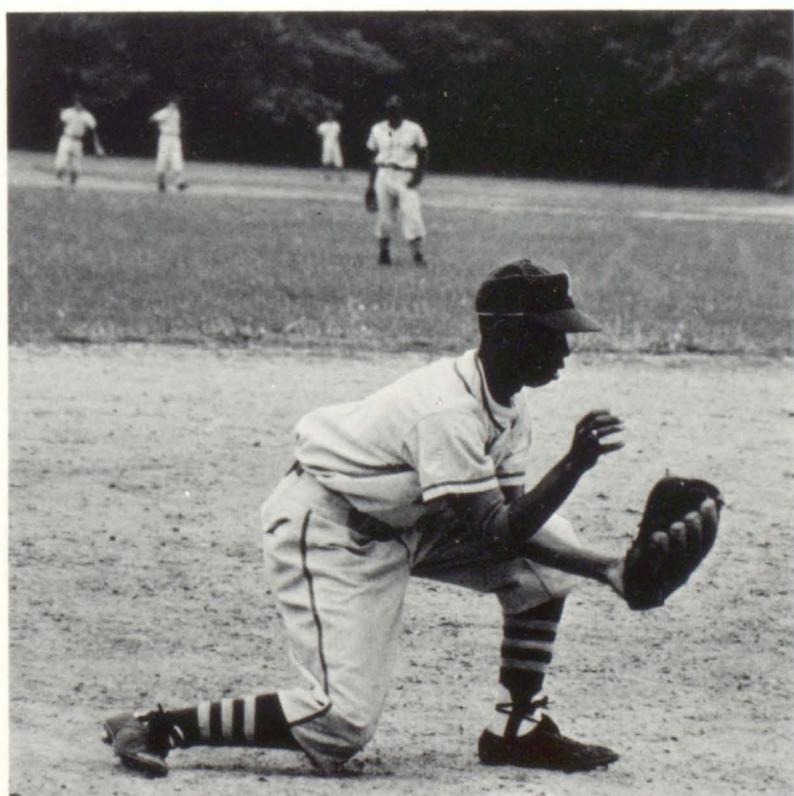

Some of the outstanding players were: sophomores, Bruce Davis, Oswaldo Mercado, and Marvin Myers; juniors, Jerry Gimble, Ronald Brown and Howard Cushnir and senior, William Drennen.

Arts High's basketball team completed a winning and very surprising season ending with a record of eleven wins and seven losses. Arts opened the season against Bloomfield Tech and was defeated, but on the second meeting Arts breezed past the Bloomfield quintet 75-64.

This was the story all season long. Arts, under the great coaching of Mr. Flaherty, won every game the second time around except two, one against Paterson Tech and the other against Irvington Tech. Irvington later went on to take the New Jersey Vo-Tech Championship.

The most exciting game of the season was a thrilling upset victory over the highly favored Newark Tech. Going into the third quarter our boys were down by seventeen points, but the team wanted this one badly and they took it in a last second driving lay-up by Larry Davis and a steadily high-scoring game by Rodney Alexander. This gave Arts a sweet though hard-won 72-71 victory.

Graduating this June are some of the team's most valuable members. Senior Co-Captains Larry Davis and Cliff Maddox, Joe Epps, Ed Pajak, Ed Crawford, and Ronald Brown will be sorely missed. But there are Junior stars all ready to take their places and the basketball team can look forward to another bigger and better season.

FACULTY-VARSITY BASKETBALL GAME

The annual Faculty-Varsity Basketball Game and Dance, sponsored by the Varsity Club, was held in Broadway Junior High's gym. The teachers' shannigans and their outlandish costumes were as hilarious as usual and provided just the right opening for the comedy that followed. Pitted against the Varsity Club, the faculty was obviously the potential loser, but with the help of an impartial referee and a few well chosen suggestions made to the boys themselves, the faculty team triumphed over seemingly insurmountable odds. However nobody was so shocked by this upset that he couldn't enjoy the dance that followed. The Shalimars provided the music for the gay festivity.

SOCcER TEAM

Our Soccer Team this year seemed haunted by bad luck as they lost game after game by a margin of one or two points. Many of the seniors have been playing under Coach Noweck since the sport's inception at Arts three years ago and they formed the backbone of the team. Graduating members of this hard-fighting group are co-captains Howie Cushnir and Jeff Baunhuber, as well as teammates, Ed Crawford, Joe Epps, Romerra Coston, Tony Guarino, and Walter Tanks.

Soccer is an up and coming sport at Arts High School, and with the expert coaching provided by Mr. Noweck, will soon become a very popular and successful sport.

Our Swimming Team, skillfully coached by Mr. Knobler, completed a successful session by placing fifth in the City Wide Meet on March 2. The team's dual meet record was a surprisingly good one. They won seven, lost five, and tied one. Because the team was composed mainly of underclassmen at the start of the season, Mr. Knobler was not optimistic. The boys worked hard, however, and improved steadily. For the first time in recent years, Arts captured a gold medal by taking first place in the 160-yard freestyle relay. On the winning team were Jack Jaworski, Howie Cushnir, Bob Mohr, and Dave Tucker. The team will lose through graduation only five seniors: co-captains Bob Mohr and Jerry Gimble, Wayne Simon, Howie Cushnir, and Nelson Rivera.

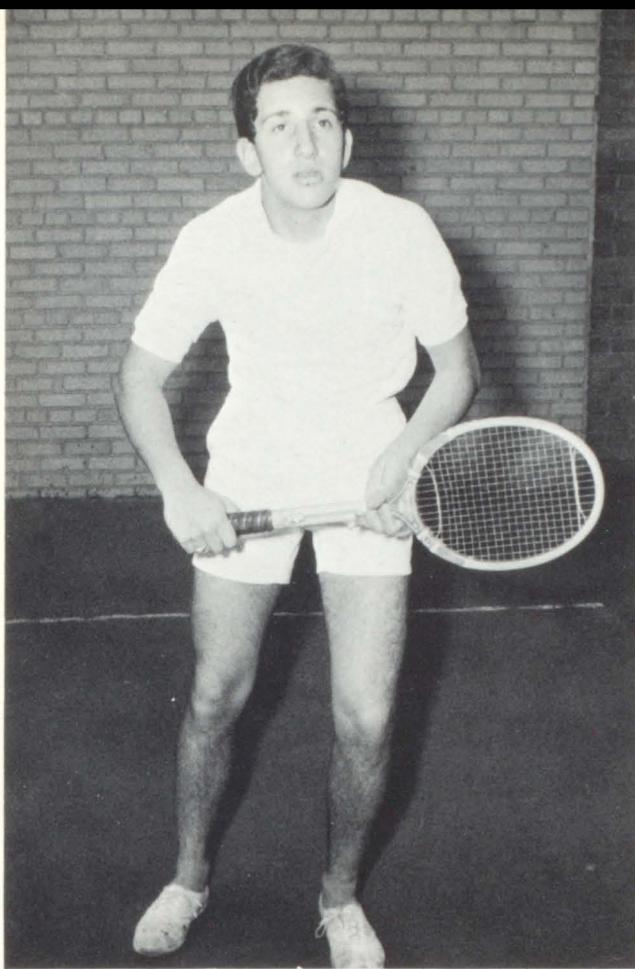

KNEELING: James Herbert, Harry Schwalb, Paul Bennett, Eric Berzon.
STANDING: Richard Nazario, Robert Mohr, Wayne Simon, Frank Kulisz.

TENNIS TEAM

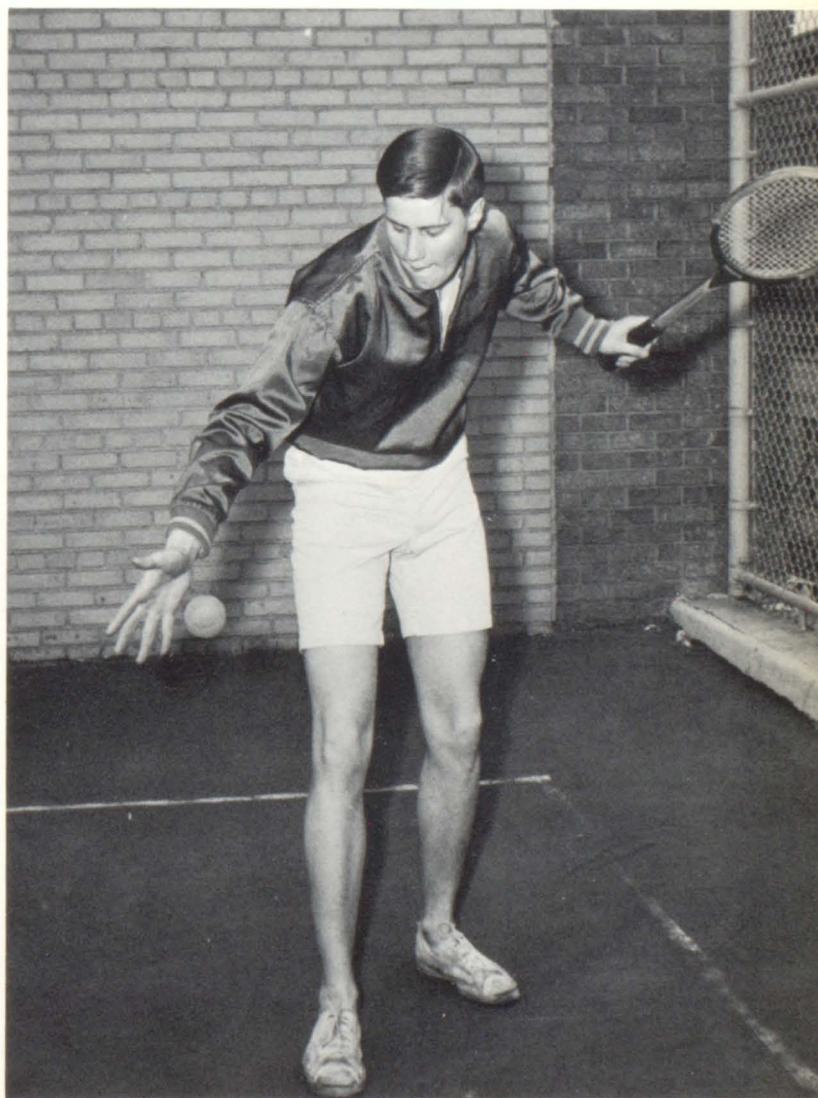

The recently organized Boys' Tennis Team came up with a highly satisfying record last spring, their second year together as a team. Under their able coach Mr. Feldman they have made remarkable progress. The boys have stiff sessions of practice at West Side Park and play each of the other Newark schools at least once a season.

Charles Smith served as captain and first singles man last year, with Robert Mohr and Wayne Simon second and third singles, respectively. Doubles players were Charles Cudera, Paul Bennett, Robert Cabot, Bob Przychodniecz, Bill Russo, Tony Liotti, Lee Farber, and Randy Nabor.

The team looks forward eagerly to the next season and is sure that it will be even more successful than the last.

Graduating seniors, Wayne Simon (above) and Captain Bob Mohr (right) who will be sorely missed next year.

TRACK TEAM

Although the track team didn't have a very successful season, all the boys agreed that it was a most enjoyable one. The performances of some boys brightened the future hopes for the team under the new coach, Mr. Marcus assisted by Mr. Marx. The team lacked enough boys to participate in all the events; therefore, a majority of the boys participated not only in their own special events but also in others as requested by the coaches. Mr. Marcus was pleased that each boy took the added burden in good spirits. The team was composed mostly of underclassmen who will form the nucleus of the track team for the next few years. Some of the outstanding boys were Captain Ed Tittel, senior; Ed Crawford, junior; Kenneth Daniels, freshman; and Donald Warren, freshman.

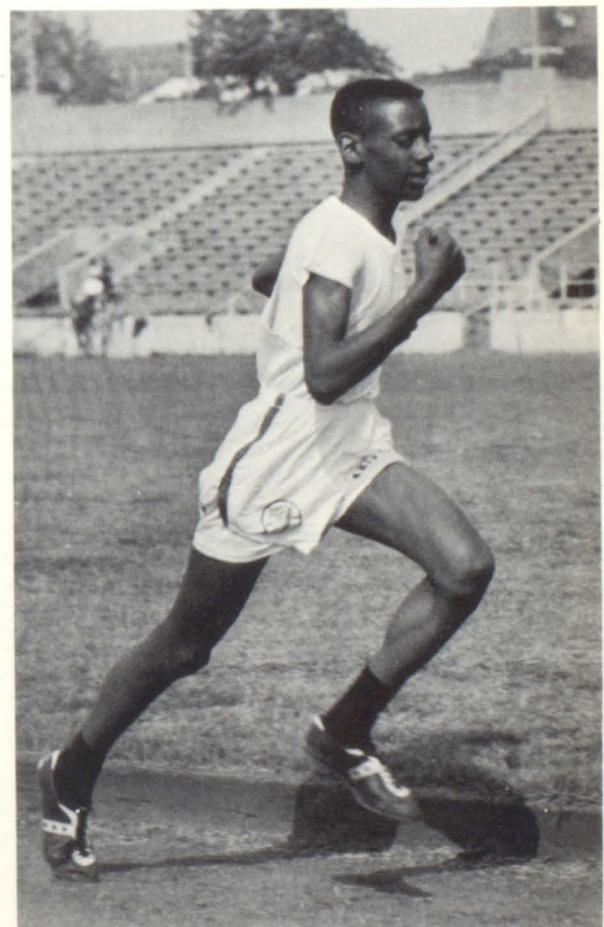

In the City Meet, Captain Ed Tittel tied for second place in high hurdles in the senior division; Roger West took second place in high hurdles in the junior division; and Donald Warren took second place in high jumps in the junior division. The team finished seventh in the City Meet.

CHEERLEADERS

The pep and vigor of the Arts High cheerleaders is contagious. The two squads, Varsity and Junior Varsity, not only represent Arts High at basketball games but also in several parades, and occasionally at soccer games. Each spring a new crop of girls try out and are chosen by a panel of teachers for the two squads. Despite strenuous and time consuming practices, the girls must maintain high scholastic averages. In the fall, under the supervision of Miss Abos, the girls review old cheers, and learn new ones. After a two-year span of hard work accented by fun each girl receives a Varsity letter.

GIRLS TENNIS TEAM

Since it was begun in 1965, the Girls' Tennis Club has provided a great enjoyment to those girls who have had the enthusiasm and energy to participate. These "pros" practice for two hours twice a week at West Side Park.

The first year was rather like a comedy but soon the players learned the basic strokes and real playing was possible. The beginning of the second season brought response from many more girls, and the coach, Miss Meyerson, was on hand to give the new recruits a few pointers. No one of them may be a Poncho Gonzalez, but this year the girls will be able to say with pride, "Tennis anyone?"

A high school should keep its windows open. The time honored methods of education must be used as guide lines rather than boundaries. Schools should use every means at their disposal to broaden their curriculum. Fortunately, the faculty of Arts High enables students to take part in an interchange between the classroom and the outside world.

This past year imaginative teachers arranged for a variety of trips and assembly programs designed to supplement the existing curriculum. The summer of 1966 found fifty students attending the New Port Festival. The entire Music Department was able to enjoy a performance of the London Philharmonic and a trip to Lincoln Center. Assemblies, including a production of Madame Butterfly, and a guest guitarist, filled out the winter schedule. Art students journeyed to the galleries in New York, gaining invaluable knowledge from first-hand experience. These activities lent added enjoyment to learning and prompted career interests.

While an enriched program remains an axiom to an art and music course, it is also essential to academic studies. Trips to Washington, D. C., and the New York Stock Exchange served as illustrations to printed material in the classroom. Speakers from the New York Times, and movies on "Hamlet" provided an impetus to further study. The availability of thought-provoking paperbacks and wide use of the rapidly expanding library encouraged exploration of problems presented in textbooks.

Supplementation of the curriculum was extended to include a wide variety of after-school activities. Students who enjoyed writing were able to prepare issues of the SCOPE and the VIGNETTE. Debate society provided a challenge to those interested in world affairs, while the scientific minded enjoyed math and chess clubs.

Participation in the activities at Arts High gave students a chance to increase their skills as well as display them. The dance groups—social, modern, and folk, and the Girls' Glee Club functioned in this manner. The Oil Painting Club offered students additional instruction in the arts.

Learning can be an exciting process. It should not be deadened by an overload of isolated facts. Arts High has opened its windows, allowing fresh sources of information to be utilized by the faculty and students. The result has been a rewarding educational experience.

The Band has undergone several changes this year. Mr. Tobia conducted the Winter Concert but then assumed new duties with the Title I program. Mr. Forbes, new to Arts High this year, replaced Mr. Tobia as Band Director and conducted the Spring Concert. Selections from "The Sound of Music," "Man of La Mancha," and "The Tijuana Brass" were performed.

BOWLING CLUB

The Bowling Club, now under the guidance of Miss Osefchen, blooms in the spring. Meeting each Monday at the Bowl-O-Mat, the girls operate with ten teams of three girls each. At the end of the school year, among awards given are those for girls with the highest scores, and those for members who show the most improvement. To be eligible to join, a girl must have the consent of her parents, and must obtain an accident insurance policy.

CHESS CLUB

Under the capable instruction of Mr. Lynch, and with the aid of Carl Schlegel's official Rudy Lopez handbook, the Chess Club has achieved new intellectual advancements this year. They even engaged in competition against other schools. However, we will not mention their minor defeat in the Arts High-Vailsburg Folly game. Five students made the varsity team, and five, the junior varsity. Then came members who knew how to play. Seriously though, many new people have joined the ranks and if you provide the challenger, they provide the competition.

CHORUS

Arts High's Chorus has always been considered an outstanding one. A love of music and singing inspires the members to give performances which will never be forgotten. Rehearsals are held daily in class sessions under the direction of Mr. Pickett. Annual programs include the Thanksgiving Assembly, the Winter and Spring Concerts, and the Kiwanis Club Concert, as well as the Commencement Program. Many talented singers have also sung in the All-City and All-State Choruses.

DANCE CLUB

Under the direction of Mrs. Tso the Dance Club started in 1965. Members work enthusiastically on a program of dances to be presented both in and out of school. This year the group performed in various elementary schools to encourage the students to attend Arts High in the Fall. The Dance Club also performed for the Bell Telephone Company. The members of the group are proud of the fact that they have made their own costumes.

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club was the newest addition to our extracurricular program. Supervised by Mrs. Rich, the club became immensely popular with the student body. Each meeting included both formal debate and a period of open discussion. Topics which were discussed ranged from the establishment of a dress code, to the admission of Red China into the United Nations and the existence of unidentified flying objects. A panel of judges was selected from the audience during each meeting, and many benefited from the stimulating discussions of contemporary issues.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, under the direction of Mrs. Sonia Feldman, offers students the opportunity of gaining an understanding of France and its people. Each meeting consists of a lecture given by one of the students and a lively discussion of the materials presented. Field trips taken by the club add greater insight to the students' comprehension of France's cultural life. A knowledge of the French language is not needed to benefit from the club's various activities.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club makes two appearances yearly. These girls, under the direction of Mrs. Shapiro, rehearse twice weekly, and are graded accordingly. Vocal selections for the Winter Concert included "Granada," "My Heart Ever Faithful," and "Waltz of the Flowers." Works of Mendelssohn, Ravel, and Strauss were presented at the Spring Concert. Mrs. Shapiro's fine direction and the many hours of hard work put in by the girls, produce a performance of the most superb quality, and provides a truly rewarding experience for all.

JUNIOR ORCHESTRA

The Junior Orchestra is something new to Arts High this year. Membership, approximately forty in number, includes most players not in other performing groups, as well as students recommended by their music teachers. It was started and is directed by Mr. Kapeller to help improve the sight-reading and performance abilities of its members. The group rehearses every Wednesday and Thursday, usually in Room 304. Its first performance, the 1967 Spring Concert, includes such numbers as "A Bach Chorale," and "Greensleeves."

LATIN CLUB

Recently initiated into Arts High's parade of extra curricular activities is the Latin Club. Advised by Mr. Chimacoff, our newly acquired Latin teacher, the club meets every other Monday. The membership is not large but those who do attend are very enthusiastic. The object of the organization is to help improve the marks of the students who attend and Mr. Chimacoff feels the members are achieving their goal. At the meetings, the students discuss words of Latin origin that are in everyday use. To enrich the club's program, the art students do drawings and paintings depicting Roman art and life.

LIBRARY GUILD

The Library Guild provides on-the-job training for those students who are interested in preparing for future work as librarians in schools, or in public or special libraries. The members do everything from receiving, charging, and shelving books, to writing for college catalogues, processing new books, preparing magazines for circulation, and helping students find books. Although the formal meetings are scheduled for every other week, work is done each day both during and after school. This year their one social event was a field trip to the new Whitney Museum.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club, under Miss Osefchen's supervision, is comprised of students who wish to broaden their knowledge in mathematics. Professional men and women give interesting talks on the great need for mathematicians in the various and exciting careers of today. The new methods of solving very complex problems by means of a computer are presented and discussed. In addition to these special programs, the students still find time to discuss puzzling questions which cannot be answered fully during class periods.

MODERN DANCE CLUB

The Modern Dance Club was organized in the early part of this school year by one of our students, Ellen Silverman, under the guidance of Mrs. Donovan. Ellen feels that the creative person should not direct all of her energy in her field of major interest, but should branch out and explore other art forms that are not so familiar which can be beneficial to her as a person and as an artist. She has been taking modern dance since she was a small child and felt that she was proficient enough to teach an amateur class. She has proved herself.

Every Tuesday after school, the girls go through a half hour of rigorous exercises, and work on translating some of their ideas into the language of the dance. Every individual leaves the class spiritually and physically refreshed.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL CLUB

For the third enjoyable season the Girls' Volleyball Club has been a worthwhile, healthy endeavor to the girls participating. Two days a week, Tuesday and Thursday, during the months of September, October, and November, the girls, under the able instruction of Mrs. Donovan, learn the rules and techniques for playing good volleyball.

The girls receive their first lessons in the gym until they develop their skills then, when the weather permits, for greater stimulation the games are played out-of-doors in our playground.

New members are welcomed by old.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The M. Bernice Hamilton Chapter of the National Honor Society is an old and respected tradition here at Arts High. According to the rules of the national organization, the members are chosen each spring from the ranks of the junior and senior classes, and must qualify in each of four areas: leadership, scholarship, citizenship and service. The new members, after their induction in an impressive ceremony in the auditorium, begin to assume certain responsibilities for programs and projects sponsored by the society and/or the school. Each year the group offers a tutoring service which is open to any student needing assistance in any subject. Also part of the year's activities is the Annual Principal's Open House, at which the alumni are welcomed back to our Winter Concert and are entertained at a reception following the program. This year the group saw "Man of La Mancha" and were able to spend a three-day weekend at Cornell University under the auspices of Title I.

Miss Therese David supervises the activities of this group.

Maria Rey and her parents are congratulated by Dr. Lewis, as Meldon Jenkins is welcomed by older members.

The new inductees take the Honor Society pledge.

OIL PAINTING CLUB

The Art Club enables the students to gain more studio experience and the help of a teacher after the close of the school day. The student's individual projects, which range from sketching to oil painting and ceramics, are supervised by Mrs. Stiller.

At a typical meeting one student will be working on a ceramic, another will be completing an oil, several will be sketching or perhaps setting up a still life or doing a portrait of other students. Membership is open to all students.

ORCHESTRA

FIRST ROW, left to right: Richard Dowling, Judythe Simmons, Marsha Mitchell, Milton McClain, Victor Weingast, Louis Bunucci, Linda Franklin, Jacqueline Sanders, Denise Mills, Lucille Mondalito, Irene Yachnik, Yvonne Mills. SECOND ROW: Mr. Pesile, Howard Cushnir, Carla Berzon, Doris Cohens, Eric Berzon, Thomas LaPara, Paul Bennett, Carol Roch, Phyllis Bernstein, Ava Riley, Mattie Moody, Fran Lewitter, Maryann Banks, Jon Yablick, Alfred Carvalho, Barbara Pulliam. THIRD ROW: Dennis Covert, Ed Vaughn, Larry Perry, Van Johnson, Ken Cicerale, Ed Crawford, Robert Mohr, Donald Gray, Jon Collins, Dennis Thomas, Allen Grundy, Kenneth Daniels.

Perfection and the Arts High Orchestra go hand-in-hand. Under the able leadership of Mr. Pesile, members strive to make each performance the best yet. Mr. Pesile, a firm believer in being prepared, has rehearsals as often as possible. Students will frequently be found sitting in the auditorium listening to previews of the next concert with "great expectations." The orchestra not only plays for concerts and shows, but has also entertained the Kiwanis Club, and many elementary school groups.

RED CROSS

For outstanding services to the community, our Red Cross Club has been awarded four achievement plaques by Parents Magazine. Under the able leadership of Mrs. Hiller, tray covers, homemade cookies, favors, bookmarks, pajamas and other clothing are made and distributed to hospitals, nurseries, and homes for the aged. One of the goals of the club is to bring some happiness into the lives of others. Members are sent as delegates to Red Cross Leadership Centers in New Jersey and Connecticut where they learn new skills and often make many new friends.

"Scope," the school newspaper is edited by the students under the supervision of Mr. Green. Reporters are assigned to write different articles by the staff editors. After the articles are finished they are proofread and typed. The variety of subjects covered includes sports, fashions, chatter, student portraits and top news. "Scope" tries to carry news to interest the whole student body.

ROW ONE, left to right: Nathaniel Hutson, Carolyn White, Joseph Napolitano, Valencia Rodgers, Glenda Mattox, Maria Pardo, Roger Kennedy, Joseph Di Bella, Mrs. Bohannon. ROW TWO: Margaret Slade, Nadia Prokofien, Cheryl Day, Carol Fortney, Toni De Vone, Brenda Everett, Deborah Hickson, Celia Albritton, Meldon Jenkins, Harriet Staller. ROW THREE: Phyllis Everett, Mafalda White, Barbara Pulliam, Patricia Devlin, Judith Simmons, Frankie Bivins, Faith Singleton, Frances Register, Sandra Thomas. ROW FOUR: Robin Smith, Lesley Mitchell, Lillian Briggs, Evelyn Collins, Cheryl Berry, Cheryl Hamilton, Cynthia Cuffie, Alice Mobley, Michael Berardi. ROW FIVE: Trent Moriant, Barry Wilson, Eugene Graziano, David Hammond, Wayne Simon, Robert Mohr, Kenneth Daniels, Edward Palmore, Stephanie Glover.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Two representatives from each homeroom and one from each club are elected to serve for a term on the Student Council. Presided over by the mayor, the meetings are held every Thursday after school. Each year, a very successful International Day program is sponsored by the Council under the guidance of Mrs. Bohannon. Another popular activity is the Annual Barn Dance. One of the unusual functions of the Student Council is the support of our Korean orphan, Lee Sook Ja.

STAGE CREW

The Stage Crew, under the direction of Mr. Pickett, is responsible for the setting up of each assembly and any special productions, or programs. This group of dedicated, conscientious, enthusiastic students build, paint, and arrange scenery on the stage and provide lighting and sound effects for all auditorium programs. While they are working, they also learn valuable skills which will help them in later life.

VARSITY CLUB

LEFT TO RIGHT: Mr. Lang, Mr. Marcus, Mr. Knobler.

The Varsity Club includes approximately fifty members, boys, who have won letters in Varsity sports such as baseball, basketball, tennis, swimming, soccer, and track. As a group, the boys do things of mutual interest, such as their Title I excursion to West Point this Spring. They are also responsible for two of our most important annual social events, the Faculty-Varsity Volleyball Game, and the Faculty-Varsity Basketball Game. Both these games, one held in the Fall and the other later in the year, are followed by dances. These events are traditional favorites of the student body, and are always well-attended. The proceeds go towards the purchase of new gym equipment for the boys.

SENIOR CLASS TRIP

... Kennedy Grave Site ...

Long after lesser affairs are forgotten, memories of the Senior Class trip will add a smile and a touch of warmth to days of preoccupied adulthood.

On this October eleventh, we obtained a valuable knowledge and understanding of the aims and actions of men who helped to establish the fundamental ideals upon which our government is based. We shared a deep respect for everything connected with our country and the amount of interest we felt grew in geometric progression as we visited one historic site after another. Our expressions reflected the sorrow we felt at our late President's grave and also our intense excitement upon first seeing the gleaming Capitol building.

On the steps of the Capitol, admiring friends took countless photographs of prospective presidents; and Lincoln and Jefferson, from their respected pedestals, stared in frozen awe at these attentive, exuberant representatives of America's wildly responsible younger generation. The trip provided an opportunity for the senior artist to visit our National Gallery of Art, where they promptly became absorbed and, but for the five extra minutes the bus waited, almost an integral, permanent part of the Washington scene.

On this day we formed basic concepts and lasting opinions concerning the workings of our government, and most of us returned with the sincere desire to satisfy our growing curiosity about our country's politics and history. Many made definite, happy plans to return to Washington even before we regretfully boarded the Newark-bound bus.

If I am asked what my favorite book is, I can answer without hesitation—Siddhartha, by Herman Hesse. The book follows the imaginary life of an East Indian who is looking for Truth. Siddhartha's life is filled with adventures, varying from the rugged life with the Samanas to the luxurious life with the beautiful Kamala.

The book was especially meaningful to me because of the time period in which I read it. I was wrapped up in myself. I was only aware of my immediate life and the problems it contained. I was filled with a feeling of urgency. I had to figure out life instantly. Siddhartha made me realize that finding one's Truth is a life time of work. If one tries flying instead of walking to his destiny, the end to his search will pass him by. Siddhartha found his Truth in the simplicity of life. This simplicity was before him throughout his searching, but he was too wrapped up in outward manifestations to see it. I have partially learned this lesson. I must take life and its experiences as they come, and allow them to be valuable to me but I must not try to find the end of a life time search too soon. I must learn to wait.

Michael Ann Bell

SENIOR CLASS ADVISOR

MILTON KNOBLER, B.S., M.A., Art.

Mr. Knobler's guidance has been appreciated by many students at Arts, but the Senior class is especially indebted to him. As class advisor, homeroom teacher, and art teacher, he shows a continuously remarkable sensitivity in the personal relationships with his students. Because he is convinced that the emotional well-being of an individual is as important as academic success, his classes have become an enriching mixture of art, history, design, psychology, philosophy, and some practical graphics experience. Mr. Knobler teaches his classes always to ask why—to accept nothing blindly that it is within one's power to question. This is one of the secrets of his own complete success as an individual, for each of his strong opinions is the result of many hours of consideration. Necessarily, he deems complete self-honesty an attribute that the successful person must possess. But the man is an artist, too, or maybe "This is the kind of artist he is" would more correctly summarize all the aforementioned qualities since these elements are so mixed and all so necessary in him. It is as artist and man that he rebels against injustice to his fellows by making the world just a little more beautiful to live in. This sense of aesthetics is carried consistently into everything he creates, whether it be a painting or a commercial work, or the smallest sign.

The senior class will always remember and be grateful for his warmth and understanding.

VIGNETTE STAFF

For many years the Vignette, the official yearbook of the Arts High graduating class, has served as both a memento to the seniors and a permanent record of the successes and defeats of the whole school in the field of sports, extracurricular activities, and creative efforts.

It is more than a memory book and record-keeping device, though, for each publication is totally designed to be beautiful aesthetically as well as to serve more utilitarian purposes. Mr. Knobler is in charge of the art work and his staff of six senior art students design the cover, the inside motif, the page layout, the section sequence and direct the official school photographer. This year Miss Abos has been adviser to the literary staff, which consists mostly of seniors who serve as writers, information-gleaners, proofreaders, and typists. They are responsible for the individual senior write-ups, the sports and club descriptions and all other written material.

The VIGNETTE is supported completely by student endeavors such as candy, magazine, and card sales. No advertisements are solicited. Mr. Shapiro and Mr. Spindler, with a few faithful helpers handle the fund raising activities, a major responsibility in a project of this kind.
